CONTRIBUTIONS ARE BEGINNING TO COME IN TO THE BIG FUND

Folks Are Urged to Hand in Their Contributions Now to Roosevelt
Memorial Fund.

The State Chairman, through the local chairman, has appointed every public spirited citizen a committee of one to solicit membership in an association, which is not only a testimonial to the character and Americanism of Theodore Roosevelt, but is also in these times of unrest and upheaval a testimony of your devotion to ideals which, if followed, will keep our great Republic in the path of progress, instead of decline and downfall. Don't wait to be personally solicited; since you yourself have already been thus solicited and appointed to do your part in the work.

Don't think that $1,000 is all that Mason county should give. Every subscription will be an eloquent testimony of the appreciation of the people of Mason county and of their loyalty to its traditions. Remember you have only this week in which to act. Therefore, you must act quickly. The names of the subscribers will be reported to the press daily. Let your name be put on the list now. In due time you will receive your certificate of membership and your name will be enrolled and preserved as long as the Memorial stands. Any contribution will be appreciated.

Call at your bank and there you will find a representative of the Membership Committee who will attend to your wants. The County Chairman has asked the privilege of heading the subscription list. How many will follow?

COUNTY SCHOOL ENROLL- MENT SHOWS INCREASE

County Superintendent Has Just Received Returns From All of the Schools—Many More in School
This Year Than Last.

Complete reports from all of the schools in Mason county as to enrollment for this year have been delayed on account of various reasons but County Superintendent Turnipseed today made announcement of the entire enrollment of country students which shows that there are this year 2520 Mason county boys and girls receiving their education from our country schools.

The exact report as the scholars are divided among the grades and the High Schools follow:

White grades2028
Colored grades276
White High School1216

Total2520
The enrollment last year was 2032 showing a gain for this year of 488 students. The last census shows a total of 2932.

In 1916 the Rural School Supervisors of the state of Kentucky made a very careful survey of the Mason county schools and in their report show the High School enrollment to be 131. Compared with this year's High School enrollment it is seen that there is a gain of 85 High School students.

Mason county schools at the present time are in better condition than they have been in many years and there is a splendid prospect for the biggest year's work in the history of Mason county schools.

KENTUCKY WELFARE WORK IS PLANNED AT BIG MEETING

Kentucky Co-operative Body Arranges
Legislature Campaign at Meeting
Held in Lexington.

A civil service law to take state penal and charitable institutions out of politics, a minimum wage law, legislation providing for an eight-hour day for women, provision for school attendance officers in all the counties of the state and raising the legal age of protection for girls, will be included in the legislative program of the social welfare and improvement agencies of Kentucky.

At a meeting of the Kentucky Co-operative Council, composed of representatives of the organization, held at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, Saturday afternoon, it was decided to have a social legislation committee appointed by the president, Dr. Frank L. McVey, the first of the week. The committee will harmonize the various proposals, bring about an agreement on state welfare policies and work out the best possible program of legislation to be presented to the General Assembly in January.

President Frank L. McVey delivered a short address of welcome to the twenty-five men and women who compose the advisory body, and the minutes of the last meeting, held at the University in July, were read. A committee appointed at that time to make a schedule and survey of the towns and activities of the state to be used in the co-operative effort of the social welfare agencies reported and its findings were approved.

Mrs. R. P. Hallock, of Louisville, representing the Kentucky Consumers' League, said that the organization would have presented to the Legislature bills for an eight-hour day for women and a minimum wage law. The latter bill would provide for separate executive boards for each industry, she said.

Mrs. Lafon Riker, of Harrodsburg, president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, reported that the legislative program of the federation included a civil service law; a bill to raise the age of protection for girls to eighteen years and to extend equal protection to boys; funds for equipment and improvement of the Pine Bluff school for girls at Shelbyville, to which the girls at the State House of Reform are being removed; school attendance officers for each county; and dormitory facilities and laboratories for Home Economics work in the University of Kentucky.

Misses Alice Lloyd and Jessie O. Yancey and Dr. J. S. Locke, of this city, were prominent members in attendance at this meeting.

RED CROSS ELECTION ON NEXT WEDNESDAY

Next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the old Library building in Sutton street the members of the Mason County Chapter of the American Red Cross are asked to meet for the annual election of officers. The present officers feel that they have done their duty and are anxious that they be relieved from further duty as officers by the election of an entirely new crop. All interested in the success of the Mason County Red Cross are urged to be in attendance at this meeting.

GEORGE W. ROYSE ENTERS COUNCIL RACE IN FIFTH

Prominent Insurance Man Becomes Candidate For Representative in City Council From the Fifth
Ward on Last Day For Filing Papers.

The Public Ledger has been authorized by Mr. George W. Royse, well known local insurance man, to announce him as a candidate for City Councilman from the Fifth ward. His petition was filed with County Clerk James Owens today having been signed by many more residents of that ward than are required by the law.

Mr. Royse has been a very successful business man and through the success he has made of his own business has demonstrated his ability to properly handle the business affairs of our city in Council. He is a high type of gentleman who has convictions on every important question arising and has always had backbone enough to back up his convictions in public as well as privately. Such a man as Mr. Royse has proven himself to be since his residence in Maysville is well qualified to sit in Council and handle the affairs of our city.

Mr. Royse has made many friends in his neighborhood and will make a strong race for the office which he seeks. He is the second in the Fifth Ward to get into the race for councilman. It is understood, however, that before the day closes there may be one more candidate in the race.

SIX MORE FILE THEIR PETITIONS

Up until 3 o'clock this afternoon six more candidates for City Councilman had filed their petitions with County Clerk James Owens. They were: A. Clooney, Second ward; F. G. Hunsicker, Sixth ward; C. F. Reed, First ward; George W. Royse, Fifth ward; Carl Daulton, Sixth ward; George Fischer, Fifth ward. Today is the last day for the filing of these petitions and those who do not have their petitions filed when the clerk's office is closed tonight cannot have their names appear on ballots.

MRS. LULA LOUDERBACK DEAD

Mrs. Lula Louderback died at her home at Moransburg late Saturday night rather suddenly from heart trouble. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Leslie Chamberlain, Miss Vivian Louderback, Mrs. Amell Huber and Mrs. Henry Eubanks. Mrs. Louderback lost a son in the World War. It will be remembered. Funeral was held from the late home at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

SCHOOL INSPECTION IS CONTINUING

County Health Officer J. S. Rice and Miss Annie M. Casey, of the County League, are continuing their inspection of all of the Mason county school children. They have already made many discoveries and have made many recommendations for the improvement of the health of the children.

PETTY OFFICES HAVE NO EFFECT ON ELECTION

For the first time in many years the election of men to the petty offices of city such as policeman, etc., is having very little effect on the race for councilman in the various wards. This usually plays a big part in the races but this year it seems to have had little effect.

RESERVOIR IS BEING THOROUGHLY CLEANED

The Maysville Water Company is today giving the reservoirs a thorough cleaning. The reservoirs have needed cleaning badly for some time and the users of city water will be pleased to learn that this is being done.

RED TRIANGLE CLUB ROOMS ARE PROPOSED FOR MAYSVILLE BOYS

Red Triangle Committee of Mason
County Will Back Movement to Furnish Young Men and Boys of Mason County Place to Spend Their Time.

Within the next few weeks there will be opened to the boys and young men of Maysville and Mason county a free gymnasium and club rooms, if the plans being backed by the Red Triangle Committee of Mason county are carried out.

A very enthusiastic meeting of many prominent local business men and ministers was held at the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon when Mr. L. F. Zerfoss, district Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. explained a proposed plan for the realization of this dream of many Maysville men for several years.

It was proposed that a campaign for $4,000 be put on in Mason county and with this fund the Y. M. C. A. will equip a Red Triangle Club Room and gymnasium for the free use of the young men and boys. For several years the fact that there was no place for the young men to spend their evenings has played on many local men who are backing this movement very strongly.

There will be another meeting of the men interested at the Chamber of Commerce building on Tuesday evening when plans will be further discussed but it seems that the campaign will be a success and that the club rooms and gymnasium will soon be established.

When the club rooms are established Rev. Worth S. Peters, pastor of the Third Street M. E. Church, will probably be chosen as Superintendent.

PURCHASE WINTON SIX AUTOMOBILE HEARSE

Mr. Ashby F. Porter, of John W. Porter & Son, local funeral directors, leaves Tuesday morning for Cincinnati to bring back with him a beautiful new Winton Six Motor Hearse which they recently purchased to add to their splendid funeral equipment. This new hearse is black and one of the most beautiful models made by this large manufacturing concern.

Dr. John Barbour, pastor of the Presbyterian church, left this afternoon for Lexington and Harrodsburg where he attends a meeting of the Synod and Presbytery.

PROMINENT YOUNG BUSINESS MAN SEEKS SEAT IN COUNCIL

Mr. Nace Brady, Progressive Business Man, Asks People of Second Ward to Endorse Him as Their Representative in Council.

In another part of this issue appears the formal announcement of Mr. Nace Brady as a candidate for City Councilman from the Second ward. Mr. Brady is at present serving out an unexpired term in City Council and asks the people of his ward to endorse him for that office for the next term of two years.

Mr. Brady is one of the city's most progressive young business men being the junior member of the firm of Squire-Brady Co., men's furnisiers. He is a very active young man alive to all of the needs of the city and always is willing and anxious to lend his support to those measures which will make for a bigger and better Maysville.

He is making no pledges in his race except that if elected by his people he will endeavor to the best of his ability to serve them and to serve his city as a whole. Mr. Brady is well qualified for the position which he seeks and will make a splendid race.

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE FROM HER HUSBAND

In the Mason Circuit Court Mrs. Lena Hutchison has filed suit asking for a divorce from her husband, Roy Hutchison. She charges cruel and inhuman treatment as well as other statutory grounds. The couple were married in this county in 1914. The wife asks for a divorce from the bonds of matrimony, alimony in the sum of $20 per month and the care and custody of their two children, a girl four years of age and a boy 17 months old. She also seeks restoration to her maiden name, Lent Breeze.

This Dry Federation is made up of a union of all of the organized dry forces in Kentucky, namely, the W. C. T. POPULAR INSURANCE MAN ENTERS COUNCIL RACE

The Public Ledger today announces Mr. C. K. Daulton, local Superintendent for the Western and Southern Life Insurance Company, as a candidate for councilman from the Sixth ward of the city. Mr. Daulton is one of the city's leading young business men born and raised in Maysville and one who has the good of the city at heart. He would make a good councilman from the city's largest ward and will receive much support from his friends and neighbors.

President Wilson, who has been very ill, passed a very good night last night and is now in much better condition.

COUNTRY DOCTORS NEEDED

The medical men as they return from overseas duty show a decided preference for settling in the cities with the result that there is a dangerous lack of doctors in the rural districts.

Many small towns, where fairly good roads would make a large country practice easily accessible, are entirely without physicians though they offer better hopes to the young doctor than the crowded districts where there is a physician in every block.

This probably is one of the deformities of the war which time will heal. The doctors will see for themselves the folly of the situation and little by little take up these outlying practices which mean hard work, perhaps, but none the less a good, substantial living.

There is no class of men more beloved than that of the country doctor, who is physician, father confessor and elder brother all in one to a host of grateful people. Also no branch of the profession offers wider experience and greater opportunity for development in skill and versatility.

The situation is not entirely up to the doctors. The rural district which lacks good medical service must do its part by improving its roads, stirring its population to such payment of its bills as will make life possible for the doctor. It must also develop its social life along lines which will make residence among its people attractive to the man of high mental attainment such as the good doctor must be.

THOSE BABY DOLL GIRLS

A young woman wrote to the "heart-interest" department of a big newspaper and complained of the difficulty that nice young women who are working and boarding in a strange town have in meeting pleasant young men.

One of her worst grievances seemed to be that the young men pass by the quiet, sensible girls, and shower their attentions on the "baby dolls."

The latter, she is sure, will not make such good wives when it comes to marriage, since they are frivolous, vain, and do not know how to cook. On the other hand, the girl "who is neat and pleasant, but perhaps looks a little pale or tired and serious; though not flaunting visible charms, is the best sort of girl to tie to, and probably can make pies to beat mother all round the lot."

There is some sense in what she says, and yet the "baby doll" girl is not always as silly as she looks. Often she has preserved the instinct for dress in spite of as hard a fight for life as the more sober-bred damsel ever made, and often she is astonishingly thrifty and competent.

Any girl who has noted in the frivolous male a tendency to seek the dressier damsels might try a little enhancing of her own personal charms. Then when she receives the attention of the man she craves, let her clinch it with a well-made pie. Will she ever lose him? Never! But if it's beauty alone that gets man's eye, where do all the plain, wholesome, sensible wives and mothers come from?

"THERE WAS VERY LITTLE APPLAUSE"

After one of his Western speeches, President Wilson gave an interview for a Democratic paper in which he said among other things, "There was very little applause. The audience had no time to applaud. I watched their faces. I saw not only interest but agreement." That was not the first time President Wilson has claimed the powers of a mind-reader. Several months ago he declared that the people of the country were overwhelmingly for the league of nations, but he deemed it necessary to leave his pressing duties at Washington and tour the country in an endeavor to convince the people that they should be for the league covenant. His explanation of the lack of applause was far-fetched. It would be just as reasonable to assert that when the people failed to return a Democratic Congress in compliance with his request last fall, they were in agreement with him but did not have time to vote because of their intense interest. There is no lack of applause for such opponents of the league as Poindexter, Borah, and Johnson.

"By the way, George, what shall we give Mabel for a wedding present? She gave us that plush upholstered chair that's in the attic, you know." "I don't think we'd better send her anything, dear. Why not let bygones be bygones?"—Life.

"You say this is the only autograph of Charlemagne in existence?" "It is." "It must be very desirable." "Yes," said the absent-minded salesman, "we're selling a lot of them."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

STANLEY COMING TO DEFENSE OF HIS ADMINISTRATION

Kentucky Senator to Speak in Kentucky This Week as Aid to Black—Embarrassing Questions May Be Asked Him.

The members of the Democratic state ticket, at a meeting in Louisville just before the latorm convention, agreed that Senator Stanley and his record as governor should be kept in the background during the present campaign.

It was remarked at the time that their ability to carry out this happy program would depend largely upon the attitude of two somewhat eminent Kentuckians, A. O. Stanley, who never has been fond of the background, and Edwin P. Morrow, who was eagerly awaiting an opportunity to tell the people what had become of their money.

Developments have justified this comment. Driven from their untenable position by the telling arguments of Mr. Morrow, and the reception given them by the people, Democratic orators are making a strenuous though belated effort to whitewash Governor Stanley and all his works. Governor Black is devoting his speeches almost entirely to a defense of the administration of which he was a part.

Eloquence to Aid Black. Not a dollar has been wasted, not a single useless officer has been on the payroll, the employment of special attorneys in the Bingham case was necessary, and the members of the Textbook Commission were "upright, citizens" who simply misconstrued the law according to Governor Black.

This week Governor Black will have eloquent assistance in plying the whitewash brush. Senator Stanley has found the background unpleasant, and will devote all of this week to speech-making in Kentucky. Presumably, his speeches will follow the line of the one he delivered at Pikeville recently, when he praised Dr. Helzer's Physiology as an excellent work, although admitting it was marred by grammatical idiosyncrasies.

In the meantime, the managers of the Republican campaign are well pleased. They have succeeded in putting the opposition entirely upon the defensive. The Democratic subterfuge of evading an expression upon the Stanley administration in their platform has proved unavailing. They have been compelled to attempt a defense of the indefensible.

Can't Deny Single Charge. Thus far, the Democrats have not been able to refute a single count in the long indictment brought by Mr. Morrow. He has proved that millions of dollars of the people's tax money have been squandered. He has proved that the administration failed to collect millions of dollars in taxes which should have been collected.

Mr. Morrow charges that the administration, by gross incapacity, lost more than $3,500,000 by compromising the state's claims for taxes on the vast Harbuck estate. Governor Black's only answer is that he will try to have the compromise set aside.

Answer Is Another Boast. Mr. Morrow charges that the administration failed to collect taxes amounting to about $182,000 on more than 14,000,000 gallons of rectified spirits. Thus far, Governor Black has not even attempted to answer this.

Mr. Morrow charges that the expenditure of $15,000 for the grotesque "Anti-kissing book" published by Superintendent Gilbert was merely to make "pie" for the public printer. Governor Black has not attempted an answer, other than to boast that the Textbook Commission didn't adopt that other and equally famous product of Dr. Helzer's pen—the Physiology.

Mr. Morrow charges that the Textbook Commission, on its second effort, changed 50 per cent. of the school books, the cost being increased in many instances; that three-fourths of the school children of Kentucky today are without textbooks as a direct result of the textbook situation; and that the children of Kentucky are paying thirty cents more per volume for their textbooks than the children of Indiana are paying for the same geographicals. Governor Black answers that the members of the Textbook Commission were "upright" and that he couldn't remove them, anyway.

"Mr. Morrow doesn't do anything but criticize. Anybody can criticize." That is the burden of Governor Black's defense. But audiences all over Kentucky are evidencing their thorough agreement with that criticism.

Advice Might Aid Governor. "An active correspondence with relatives and friends is not wise. You may write one letter a day, if your fever is not high, but if you wish to write more, ask the doctor." How unfortunate it is that Dr. Helzer's "Health and Sanitation," from which the foregoing excerpt is quoted, had not been written before

TELL THE WORLD THIS WOMAN SAYS

That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made Me a Well Woman.

Los Angeles, Cal.—"I suffered with female troubles for years, was sick most of the time, was not able to do my own housework, and I could not get help from doctors. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers, and took six bottles, and am a well woman. You can use my name to tell the world the good your medicine has done me as I shall praise it always."—Mrs. A. L. DeVINE, 647 St. Paul Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," should do as Mrs. DeVine did, and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial. For over forty years this famous remedy, which contains the cumulative strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, has been correcting just such ailments. If you have mysterious complications write for advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

THIS IS THE YEAR FOR THE G. O. P.

REGISTRATION IN KENTUCKY SHOWS BIG REPUBLICAN GAINS IN THE STATE.

LOUISVILLE BEATS RECORD

Morrow Will Carry Louisville and Jefferson County By 6,000 On November 4 Is Predicted.

This is the year for the Grand Old Party.

Registration returns from practically every section of Kentucky show that Republicans are turning out as never before in the history of the State to the support of Morrow and the entire Republican ticket.

For the first time in the annals of the city of Louisville, more Republicans than Democrats have registered for the election Nov. 4.

Republicans of Kentucky are thoroughly alive to the importance of the campaign and tremendous enthusiasm is displayed everywhere. In the city of Louisville alone on the first day of registration, Oct. 7, more than 14,000 Republicans registered, a gain of more than 4,000 over the first day of registration a year ago. The Democratic registration was only 11,500, a gain of only 1,500 over the same day a year ago. Independents showed a gain of 611.

The second day's registration kept up the good work in Louisville. The total Republican registration for the two days was over 22,000, a gain over last year of 8,400, while the Democratic total was 21,101, a gain of only 8,769. The Independents (most of whom are accounted Republicans) also made a good gain.

At the close of the second day's registration, the following statement was issued from Republican city headquarters:

"The Republican campaign committee is highly pleased with the registration. We have every reason to believe that Mr. Morrow's majority in Louisville and Jefferson county will now reach beyond the 6,000 we heretofore expected."

Democratic attempts to interfere with the registration were defeated at the first attempt. Well known Democratic politicians were arrested at the voting places.

Democratic headquarters at the Tyler were gloomy. The leaders were forced to admit the big Republican gain. No word of cheer could be given them from Democratic State Headquarters at the Reelbach as returns from out in the State showed generally the Republicans were making far heavier gains than the Democrats.

Morrow For Governor

Buy in Maysville. It pays.

Governor Black wrote to the L. & N. Railroad, asking for a pass for his friend, Mr. William Rye, who belonged to "a numerous and influential family, and some of his people are usually on the juries in our courts."

If the assistant attorney general of Kentucky had seen Dr. Helzer's sage admonition he would have taken his temperature before writing in behalf of the friend whose people were so frequently on juries.

Always Confronted By His Letter. But he didn't, and as Judge Carroll has declared:

"Governor Black is everywhere and every place confronted by that ugly and incriminating railroad letter. In every speech he spends half of his time, in a pettifoggish way, attempting to defend, explain and apologize for that indefensible and inexplicable thing."

SECURITY LEAGUE ISSUES WARNING ON SPREAD OF DOCTRINE

Declares Country Faces "Social Revolution Downward" With All the Evils of Minority Class Rule.

New York, October 19.—Warning the public generally to wake before it is too late to the real meaning of the radical agitation throughout the country, the Executive Committee of the National Security League issued the following statement on the industrial situation today:

"The time has arrived for the people of America to wake to a realization of what is taking place. It is social revolution downward—nothing else. The radical agitation which is menacing the foundations of our industrial life is not based upon specific grievances, but is aimed at the overthrow of American institutions and ideals just as surely as if a Bolshevik army was marching on Washington. The American people are confronted with all the destructive forces of minority class rule which have made a waste of Russia. The bloody method of the Bolshevik revolution is the only condition lacking. In fact, its absence is the sole reason for the long blinding of our citizens' eyes to what is going on.

"This country should have emerged from the war the strongest nation industrially, socially and morally that ever existed on the face of the earth. Instead, our 'reconstruction,' our return to normalcy, has been hindered, almost irrevocably, by internal radical agitation foreign to our basic ideals and from sources foreign to our shores. The great American get-together spirit, the spirit which won the war, has been almost lacking and apparently forgotten. Its immediate re-secularization is essential to save the day.

"Internationalism, syndicalism, communism, socialism, are the antitheses of Americanism. Americanism means the best of the ideals of the peoples of all the world, the best of human ideals—manhood. Manhood means ambition, self-denial, thrift. These ideals can spring only from the protection of personal liberty and the right of property—the right of individual possession of property as guaranteed by the Constitution. He who does not believe this cannot be an American. Manhood, and the opportunity to prosper, are the essentials of Americanism and are inconsistent with communism. Loyalty, patriotism, love of country, are, in the final analysis, a willingness to abide by the laws of the land which give to all their rights, and demand from all the rights of each.

"The true American spirit has been splendidly illustrated in recent times by the prompt action of Mayor Ole Hanson in dealing with the I. W. W. revolutionary element in Seattle, and equally so by Governor Coolidge in punishing the deserters among the police force in Boston, who, to serve their own ends, deliberately violated their oaths and turned the municipality over to thugs and criminals. The time is now here when American citizens must decide whether they intend to run this country or whether they will permit the radical foreign-born element to do so.

"Property rights must be declared inviolable to protect every man in the community in his rights and ambitions, and those who would try to break down that law should be reasoned with gently, if that will suffice, firmly, in any and every case, and without mercy if persisted in. "America needs its American doctrine to be understood by all."

CEMETERIES OF AMERICAN DEAD BEING REDUCED

Number of Cemeteries Where American Dead Are Buried Are Being Reduced to a Few.

The following is an extract taken from the September 27, 1919, number of the Army and Navy Register: American cemeteries in Europe have recently been reduced from nearly 2,400 to about 700. A large reduction in this number will probably be made during the process of concentration in which the military forces of England, France and the United States are necessarily engaged.

The graves registration service has placed most of these cemeteries in excellent condition, and is now actively engaged in an effort to perfect the appearance of every one. Considerable time will be necessary for the completion of this great task. The commanding general in France has recently cabled to the War Department that all reports of the progress of the work are favorable. Congress now has under consideration the first definite appropriation for this purpose.

The matter of placing stone markers on the graves of our dead in Europe is engaging the attention of the quartermaster general, and the advice of the national fine arts commission is being sought with reference to fitting designs and materials.

The chief of the graves registration service, who is temporarily in this country for consultation, has recently brought a carload of mortuary papers and records from France and has established a graves registration division in the office of the quartermaster general in Washington, where these records can be worked out to completion for the use of families of the dead. No effort is being spared to insure accuracy and to perfect such records as require further investigation.

So many inquiries have demanded information as to the extent of our agreements with France in relation to mortuary matters that the War Department makes the following statement:

American compacts with the French state provide:

1. That cemetery space for our dead shall be allotted within French territory without cost to the American Government or people, wherever such space may be required. No allied army or nation may procure cemetery space in France by rental, purchase or other method of independent action.

2. That bodies will be transferred from temporary resting places in French municipal cemeteries whenever definite selection of American cemeteries shall have been made by an international commission and approved by the ministry of war for assignment to American use.

3. That concentration of bodies in contiguous territory shall be made, wherever practicable now that active hostilities are ended, and that no isolated graves shall remain in France.

4. That such concentration shall be made at points which are mutually approved by French and American authorities, and that the work shall be conducted in accordance with French sanitary and mortuary regulations, whose enforcement is committed to the état civil.

5. While the removal of allied dead from France to their homes has not become the subject of international agreement, such removal has been disapproved by French authorities for a certain period of time by provisional regulation which is based on sanitary and economic grounds, and is proposed as a project of law now pending to French chambers. This regulation delays removal for reasons to which the American Government must give due consideration, but no suggestion of a permanent prohibition has been made, and diplomatic efforts are being employed with a view to securing some modification of the wishes of the French government.

BLACK'S MAN SAYS MORROW IS RIGHT

JOHN B. McFERRAN, OF LOUISVILLE, TAKES ISSUE WITH GOVERNOR ON SCHOOL SURVEY.

NAMED ON BLACK'S BOARD

Leading Business Man and Educator Favors the Work Done by Parties Outside of the State.

Governor Black, pressed to the wall by prominent Democratic newspapers to name a board of control for state charitable and penal institutions as good as that named by Edwin P. Morrow, Republican candidate for Governor of Kentucky, sidesteps the issue and tries to draw attention away from the subject by naming a board to "consult" with the superintendent of public instruction about the state's schools.

But the amusing part of it all is that the first man Governor Black named on his educational conference board came out in a letter to the Courier-Journal, declaring that Black was wrong and Morrow was right.

Both party platforms declared in favor of a survey of the public school system of Kentucky. Morrow approved the plan adopted by leading school trustees and teachers in the state of having the survey made by disinterested, outside parties, such as the Carnegie Foundation. Already a partial survey has been made by a body receiving funds from this source. Governor Black insists that this survey should be made by men and women who live in Kentucky.

John B. McFerran of Louisville, a prominent Democrat and the first named by Governor Black in his letter to the Courier-Journal advocating the school survey idea, wrote: "We need a genuine and unflinching statewide survey. Such a one as can only be made by sane and sensible experts, men and women who have had actual and successful experience in such work, and preferably so from outside the state, so that they may be free from complications of local politics or other untoward influences."

Who is right, the school trustees, teachers, Morrow and Mr. McFerran or Governor Black?

Morrow For Governor

FUEL. Fire insurance costs more than before. One of Stanley's little "fire putters-out" spent most of his time in July running Governor Black's campaign in Louisville while drawing his salary from the state of $125, with $3.05 for street car fares in 16 days on the side.

Morrow For Governor

COHEN'S BIRDS COME HIGH. The State Department of Agriculture under Mat Cohen spent $25 for 10 Plymouth Rock roosters. Even these high-toned birds won't be able to crow for Mat the day after election.

Morrow For Governor

HADN'T HEARD OF FOCH. Judging from his letter to the L. & N. in behalf of his friend, Tye, Governor Black had not yet heard of General Foch's famous epigram, "They shall not pass."

Morrow For Governor

SPEAKING OF NAMES. Governor Black said in a speech, "Morrow's name ought to be Yesterday instead of Morrow." The people of Kentucky will be Blue if they get Black.

Morrow For Governor

WHY TAXES ARE HIGHER. Three hundred and fourteen new job-holders at a cost to Kentucky taxpayers of more than $1,440 a day are good examples of why taxes are higher.

Morrow For Governor

PROGRESS. Governor Black says the Democrats are progressive. Yes, emptying the state treasury with a steam shovel is some progress.

KEEN OBSERVATION

Considering the fact that he was always handicapped by bad eyesight, Theodore Roosevelt was an amazingly close observer of natural life. When he went on trips either as a hunter, naturalist or explorer, he constantly observed the life around him and in this way contributed much interesting and useful data to the records of natural history.

The trained observer, like "Sherlock Holmes," for instance, possesses the faculty of seeing things that other men overlook. Such observers have a passion for minutiae that, to a less discerning person, would seem a waste of time. But, both in detective work and the study of nature this type of mind is a tremendously valuable asset in putting two and two together and obtaining results. Roosevelt was a nature detective, as it were, and he often obtained as much data from detail as Sherlock Holmes obtained clues from cigar ashes.

John Burroughs in his book "Camping and Tramping with Roosevelt," has written of the Colonel's close and accurate observations of birds and animals and cites many concrete illustrations of it.

"When I accompanied him on his trip to Yellowstone Park in April, 1903," wrote Mr. Burroughs, "I got a fresh impression of the extent of his natural history knowledge and of his trained powers of observation. Nothing escaped him, from bears to mice, from wild geese to chickadees, from elk to red squirrels; he took it all in and he took it in as only an alert, vigorous mind can take it in. On that occasion I was able to help him identify only one new bird. All the other birds he recognized as quickly as I did."

Scarcely this is a remarkable tribute to Roosevelt's ability as a naturalist from the greatest nature writer since Thoreau—a man who has made a lifetime study of the habits of birds, beasts and fish. It is the more remarkable when one stops to consider the extent of Roosevelt's activities in fields other than natural history.

Burroughs also wrote that he could not recall having ever met a man with a keener and more comprehensive interest in the wild life around him—an interest that was human as well as scientific.

"He usually saw the bird or heard its note as quickly as I did," continued Burroughs, "and I had nothing else to think about and had been teaching my eye and ear the trick of it for over fifty years. His hunting records," writes Mr. Burroughs, "contain more live natural history than any similar records known to me, unless it be those of Charles St. John, the Scotch naturalist-sportsman."

LEAGUE NOW AN ISSUE

Washington, October 18. — The league of nations has been made a political issue in the campaign of 1920 and has been made so by President Wilson alone, according to the view of Representative Sinton D. Fess, of Ohio, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee.

"There never has been any substantial relief that Wilson would compel the Senate to accept his views on the league," said Mr. Fess. "From the very beginning of the controversy Republican leaders have endeavored to prevent the league being made a partisan issue, in order that every American of whatever party affiliation might be free from party bias for individual action. In spite of this the Administration leaders close to the President have assiduously pushed the measure in Congress and out of it for party advantage, as evidenced by the action of the Democratic National Committee endorsing it. The attitude of these leaders will make it an issue in spite of the efforts of Republicans. The Democratic party must accept the consequences of an issue made on the foreign-made league without the slightest alteration. No party can win a contest before the American people on a foreign issue."

HEED THE WARNING

Many Maysville People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are weak they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Weak kidneys usually expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust," sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys often cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. There is no better recommended remedy.

Maysville people endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. Fred Dresel, tailor and justice of the peace, 1238 East Second Street, says: "I was troubled by indigestion of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. The kidney secretions burned in passage and often were retarded. I had severe pains across the small of my back which greatly interfered with my work. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Wood & Son's Drug Store, gave me prompt relief." Mr. Dresel gave the above statement on February 6, 1908, and on November 14, 1916, he added: "I have had the same faith in Doan's Kidney Pills today as ever, for I haven't had any trouble with my kidneys since I last recommended them."

Hillsdale observed Rally Day yesterday with a fine program and with an excellent attendance. This is one of the most aggressive schools of the county. And best of all, they always report their attendance. There are about twenty schools throughout the county that might profit by their example. Great credit is due the faithful and loyal workers at Hillsdale. They believe in Sunday School work as essential to the community. This school is doing a fine work in a section that is hardly touched by any of our city churches. May the good work continue!

TOBACCO INTERESTS BAND TO FIGHT PROHIBITION MOVE

Louisville, Ky., October 19.—Kentucky tobacco interests are centering attention upon the Allied Tobacco League's proposed campaign against the anti-tobacco drive of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

The league, representing virtually every branch of the tobacco industry, was formed recently in Cincinnati and will seek incorporation under Kentucky laws. It is said that branches will be formed throughout the country.

The latest anti-tobacco step of the Temperance Union, according to information here, is the filing with the secretary of state of Oregon of a petition to make sale of cigarettes and tobacco unlawful after January 1, 1921. It is said that similar petitions will be filed shortly in every state, all providing severe penalties for non-observance of the law.

MUSICAL SEASON IN MAYSVILLE OPENED BY TWO ARTISTS

Barbara Maurel and Oscar Seagle, Famed Inter-National Artists Will Open the Musical Season at the Washington Theater This Evening.

A concert series of unusual merit opens at the Washington Theater this evening when Barbara Maurel, mezzo soprano, and Oscar Seagle, baritone, give a program of high class musical numbers.

This concert is being given under the personal direction of Messrs. J. G. and Wm. F. Murphy and promises to be one of the biggest musical treats Maysville has had the privilege of hearing.

The grand piano to be used for these artists is a Smith & Nixon and is furnished by the Richard Spaniard Piano Company.

In spite of her youth, Barbara Maurel has had a career full of interest. Born of French parents in Alsace-Lorraine, in the very heart of that territory which for more than four years has been so bitterly disputed by the allied and enemy armies, she was brought to America as a child of five. Here she resided until her sixteenth year, when she returned to America, she lived for two years in Philadelphia and New York, where she first conceived the idea of a vocal career. On her return to Paris, she was accepted as a pupil by Jean De Reske. She studied also with that noted representative of the Fugere School, Jules Chevallier, to whom she was sent by Mary Garden, who had heard and admired her. Remaining three years under this eminent tutelage, she then entered upon her professional career — a full-fledged product of the most authoritative French instruction. Covent Garden promptly claimed her as a welcome acquisition, and engaged her under a two-year contract. Coming to America a few seasons ago, she was engaged by the Boston Opera Company, for leading mezzo-soprano roles. With this company, she was heard all over the United States and Canada, appearing in "Rigoletto," "Butterfly," "Cavalleria Rusticana," "Tales of Hoffmann," and other standard operas. Her success was immediate and unqualified, and the audiences which welcomed her so enthusiastically in operatic roles have accorded her equal admiration in the concert field. —how much can to some extent be gathered from the notices of her recent recitals which follow:

Oscar Seagle rises head and shoulders above the crowd of concert aspirants. This is the verdict of Henry E. Krebbs, dean of the American critics. It is a verdict attested to by the judgment of a hundred other experts and thousands of music-lovers. The reasons therefore are easily discovered. Upon a voice of great natural beauty Seagle has superimposed a command of technical facility, a breadth of emotional power, a wealth of vocal color, a clarity of diction, in short a perfection of utterance that for its counterpart we must go to the great singers of the golden age of bel canto. His versatility is amazing. He does all kinds of song equally well. His twelve years of training under the great Jean De Reske have given him a mastery of the French song, both ancient and modern, and a keen insight into the delivery of operatic arias; his coaching with Von Zurembin, the renowned master, a rare knowledge of German lieder. His English songs spring from the heart and manifest a rich fund of emotional power.

A nation-wide drive will be started against bootleggers by Federal officials on the morning of October 28.

A GOOD LITTLE FARM

In the Washington School District

Is For Sale

There's a 23 acres of it, a good five-room house, tobacco barn, all needed outbuildings, located on the pike, about one-quarter of a mile from Murphysville. A splendid small farm, good land, well worth the price asked.

Won't be on the market long.
